

Grandparents Raising Grandchildren

Cornell Cooperative Extension of Suffolk County's Family Health and Wellness Program and South Huntington Public Library proudly present PASTA (Parenting the Second Time Around) a FREE series of eight programs for grandparents and caregivers who are raising their grandchildren or other relatives. Each 2-hour session spans a variety of topics including child development, discipline, rebuilding your family, living with teens, legal issues and advocating for your grandchild. The program helps to guide grandparents or caregivers raising a new generation during these times rife with challenges unforeseen 20 to 30 years ago. If you or anyone you know is interested, please join us! Refreshments and childcare will be provided.

PASTA is made possible by a grant from Brookdale Foundation Relatives As Parents Program
